ROCK GOSPEL TO PERFORM SATURDAY NIGHT

In celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Newman Club, the Rock Gospel will be performing a program of rock and folk music for the deaf in the Student Union at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Tickets can be purchased at the door for $1.00 per person.

FIRST EVALUATION SESSION HELD

The Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf held its first evaluation session in Memphis, Tennessee, October 20-23.

Attending the session was a representative from each state registry. These representatives, who were evaluated and certified, have returned to their home states and are setting up evaluation panels.

Now each member listed in a state registry will be rated on his interpreting, translating, and reverse interpreting skills.

Serving on the certification committee from our Gallaudet family were Al Pimentel, Lottie Riekehof, Will Madsen, and Mrs. Tom Mayes. Also attending was Dan Pokorny, president of the Maryland chapter.

NEW BOOKS OF INTEREST

--Signs of Silence: Bernard Bragg & the National Theatre of the Deaf, by Helen Powers. Dodd, Mead & Company, 1972.

Following her attendance at a performance of the National Theatre of the Deaf in 1967, Helen Powers began to explore the world of the deaf.

Her book, Signs of Silence, traces the life of Bernard Bragg and his work with the National Theatre of the Deaf.

Mrs. Powers is donating the original manuscript of her book to the Library.

--Semiotics and Human Sign Languages, by William C. Stokoe, Jr.; number 21 of Approaches to Semiotics, edited by Thomas A. Sebeok, Mouton, the Hague, 1972.

Of particular interest to the student of American Sign Language, Semiotics and Human Sign Languages discusses the ASL syntax and vocabulary, recent research in sign language, and the effects on users of ASL in an English-speaking country.

--Sign Language Studies, Vol. 1, No. 1, edited by William C. Stokoe, Jr. Mouton, the Hague, 1972.

This is the first issue of the semi-annual journal, Sign Language Studies, which is being prepared under the auspices of the Indiana University Research Center for Language Science.

James Woodward, Howard Roy, and Lillian Hamilton are among the contributors to this first issue. George Detmold is serving as an advisory editor.

AROUND AND ABOUT

There have been several moves recently in Hall Memorial Building. The Graduate School has taken new offices in room 151 and the Development Office is now located in room 121. Development also has a new phone number, 887....The Continuing Education Program has put out the first issue of its monthly newsletter, "In Touch," which will assist the program in its efforts "...to be truly responsive to the needs of those we exist to serve."... The Registrar's Office has announced November 13-17 as tentative dates for pre-registration for the second semester.... The Health Care Center for the Deaf, which is operated by St. Elizabeths Hospital, will hold an open house this Sunday from 2-5 p.m. The center is located at 4600

16th Street, N.W....The Bisons lost to D.C. Teachers this past Saturday in the last 40 seconds of the game. The final score was 20-0. Hopefully the tide will turn when the Bisons meet Anne Arundel Community College at 1 p.m. at Gallaudet.
